Get in the Game! Geocaching Resources

Take Membership Recruitment High-Tech

Looking for ways to get additional tips and tricks on geocaching? In addition to the Get in the Game! toolkit materials on YourSource and Scouting.org/100years, check out some of these valuable resources:

- Geocaching.com — The geocaching authority, and leading destination for the sport, Geocaching.com contains a wealth of information. Explore topics from how-to-get-started to more sophisticated topics like transforming a cell phone into a navigation device. www.geocaching.com

- Geoscouting.com — Learn from the experience and expertise of the Marin Council, pioneers in integrating the sport with Scouting programming. www.geoscouting.com

- REI — REI and other outdoor retailers frequently hold geocaching seminars. Check with your local store for availability. www.REI.com/outdoorschool

- The Complete Idiots Guide to Geocaching — Yes, it exists. And you can buy it from Geocaching.com, Amazon.com, and many retail booksellers.

- Geocacher U — A site by geocachers, for geocachers to share information and ideas. www.geocacher-u.com

- Geocaching with Kids — A Website by Eduscapes that gives tips on working with a younger audience. www.eduscapes.com/geocaching/kids